U.S. Ups Bank Discount Rate as a Safeguard

By ADREN COOPER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States put a higher bank discount rate into effect today as a safeguard against the flow of dollars abroad.

At the same time, the government hopes to keep the domestic economy on course by moderately increasing the funds available to bankers, businessmen and consumers.

The Federal Reserve Board Monday ordered an increase from 3.5 per cent to 4 per cent in the discount rate — the interest bankers must pay when they obtain funds from the Federal Reserve system. The board acted after Britain jumped its bank rate from 5 to 7 per cent earlier.

Estes Spent Three Days in Jail Cell

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Convicted farm financier Billie Sol Estes now has spent three days and two hours in jail since FBI agents arrested him more than two and a half years ago.

The three days followed his arrest March 9, 1962. It took that long for lawyers to get his $500,000 bond reduced to $100,000.

Two hours were added Monday when U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes ordered a $10,000 bond forfeited at noon because of travel violations.

She granted him another bond in the same amount and he went free again by midafternoon. The bond was posted under a Dallas indictment charging that Estes made false statements to the Commodity Credit Corp. The case hasn't been tried.

A flurry of indictments accused Estes of fraud, conspiracy, false swearing and swindling after he was arrested and is grain storage-liquid fertilizer complex collapsed.

Estes has been convicted and is appealing to the Supreme Court prison terms totaling 23 years on federal charges of mail fraud and state charges of swindling. He is free on bonds of more than $100,000.

THE NEW MACHINE USES TYPEWRITER-PRODUCED stencils instead of Linotype slugs, and The Star staff was busy last week turning nearly 1,300 mail names into stencils. The Elliott machine counts the mail each day, and, at the end of the month, knocks out expiring subscriptions as the stencils go through.

BOTTOM — THE NEW OPERATION ELIMINATES troublesome address labels, stenciling the name and address of the subscriber alongside the newspaper name, as shown in the bottom picture. Mail subscribers are asked to check their expiration dates as shown in the new stencil and report any errors to the office, where complaints will be checked against the circulation book record.

Even Behind the Iron Curtain American Music Dominates Much of the Popular Taste

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Music has more than charms to soothe the savage breast.

It also has big pocketbook appeal. It has sounded a major keynote of its own in the present national business boom.

"This country has got to wake up to the fact we have had a cultural explosion, and are now culturally mature," said Robert J. Burton. "Musically, we now dominate the world."

Americans themselves still are largely ignorant of their musical flowering, according to Burton, president of Broadcast Music, Inc., one of the country's two major organizations for licensing performing rights. The other is ASCAP, pioneer in the field.

"In 1939, when BMI was formed, ASCAP had a membership of about 1,138 composers and publishers," Burton said.

"Today there are more than 21,750 authors, composers and music publishers connected with the two firms."

"Performing rights payments came to about $4 million in 1939, last year were above $50 million, and by 1970 will reach $100 million."

"Sales of recordings rose from $44 million in 1939 to in excess of $650 million this year."

"In 1963, Americans spent another $650 million for new musical instruments, accessories and sheet music — more than the combined amount they spent for all spectator sports, cameras, comic books and playing cards."

"We had 100 symphony orchestras in this country in 1920. Now there are some 1,300, more than half the number in the whole world.

"Americans own 39 million musical instruments, up from 21 million in 1950."

Burton paused. A stocky, intense man who started life as an attorney, he hadn't run out of figures. He simply had run out of breath.

"Then he went into the international picture. "Music is America's chief creative export form today. That wasn't so true even 10 years ago."

"But now in Western Europe, the Far East, and even behind the Iron Curtain, American music can truly be said to dominate much of the popular taste."

The mushrooming interest in music has created an upsurge in the untold number of Americans anxious to write their nation's songs.

"Heaven only knows how many songwriters there are," Burton said.

Cites Need of a Law to Invest Idle State Cash

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Treasurer Nancy Hall told the Legislative Council today that she cannot invest idle state funds in interest-bearing accounts without a change in the law.

Her remark led Pulaski County Rep. Sterling Cockrill to speculate that a bill of this nature will be introduced in the 1965 legislature.

"You pass the law, and I'll go along with it," Mrs. Hall said.

She appeared before the council to present her budget request for the coming biennium. Her current appropriation is $136,445 a year. She is asking $157,150 for 1965-66 and $158,650 for 1966-67.

Cockrill raised the question about idle state funds. Called unencumbered balances, these are deposited in non-interest-bearing accounts.

Enumerators are key workers in an agricultural census. It is the enumerator's responsibility to locate every farm within an enumeration district assigned to him (or her); determine if the operator of the farm has answered all questions on a questionnaire that will be mailed to the farmer by the Census Bureau, help the farmer complete any unanswered questions on the form, check answers for accuracy, and deliver the form to the Census Bureau.

The following persons have been appointed:

Mrs. Helen W. Bonds, Mrs. Wilma Thurman, Mr. Shirley R. Harris, Mrs. Evelyn M. Hicks, Mrs. Ethel V. Thompson, Mrs. Erdine Fry, Mrs. Audrey Taylor, Mrs. Adean Foley, Mrs. Mildred Middlebrooks, and Mrs. Mary Whitworth.

Kindergarten Statewide Is Predicted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Education Commissioner A. W. Ford said Monday that a program which tries to meet the basic educational needs of both children and adults brings stronger public support for teacher salaries and school finances.

Ford said the way to make progress is by providing educational services needed for the improvement of the overall economy and culture of the people.

He predicted that Arkansas would develop a kindergarten program on the state level, a move which would take a constitutional amendment.

Ford said that while he supported the passage of the community junior college amendment, he would oppose any program which threatened the remainder of the school programs.

British Deal Blow to Nuclear Fleet Proposal

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson appears to have dealt a severe—if not fatal—blow to the proposed mixed nuclear fleet of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by declaring Britain opposes the project.

Wilson told the House of Commons Monday his Labor government believes "a mixed" manned surface fleet adds nothing to Western strength, is likely to cause dissipation of strength in the alliance and may add to the difficulties of East-West agreement.

Decision in Local Case Reversed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — The Arkansas Supreme Court on Monday reversed a decision of the Hempstead Chancery Court and reinstated a deed executed in August 1962 by Mrs. Annie L. Christian to Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Baber of Hope.

The conveyance had been questioned by Mrs. Myrna Hicks of Gate City, Virginia, who is a niece of Mrs. Christian, and who had had herself appointed guardian for Mrs. Christian by the Virginia courts. The case was tried in the lower court at Hope in October 1963, with Judge Wesley Howard of Texarkana presiding, and the deed was ordered cancelled.

Mr. and Mrs. Baber appealed to the Supreme Court, and the high court ruled that the deed was valid, and that the chancery court was in error. Mrs. Hicks had contended that Mrs. Christian was not competent in August 1962 to make a deed and that she had been unduly influenced by Mrs. Baber.

The Supreme Court said that it was not impressed by her contention, and that the decision of the lower court had been against the weight of the evidence, and that Mr. and Mrs. Baber were entitled to prevail in the litigation.

Belgians Attack Red-Backed Rebel Natives

By KENNETH L. WHITING

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Belgian paratroopers swarmed down on Stanleyville, today and seized virtual control of the rebel capital; but not before about 50 foreign hostages were killed, including a U.S. missionary doctor, official reports said.

U.S. transport planes flew in the paratroopers, and some of them were shot, it reported the planes were damaged. American led Congolese government soldiers attacked Stanleyville. The attacking troops moved quickly to free the rest of 1,613 foreigners held as hostages and marked for slaughter by the regime should their capital be attacked.

Refugees flown to Leopoldville from Stanleyville said the rebels had killed Dr. Paul Carlson, medical missionary from Rolling Hills, Calif. The reports did not give the circumstances of his death. He had been condemned as a spy, a charge denied by Washington.

(In Washington, the State Department notified relatives on the basis of the reports from Stanleyville that Carlson has been killed. Relatives notified were Carlson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Carlson of Alhambra, Calif., and his brother, Dr. Dwight Carlson, of Orange, Calif.)

bearing accounts in various state banks.

The amount so deposited ranges between $10,000 and $20,000.

These funds have been a subject of controversy in the last two elections. Sid McMath in 1962 and Winthrop Rockefeller in 1964 raised the question of why the state could not get interest on this money.

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, warning that the new civil rights law and recent court decisions on the rights of defendants in criminal cases will mean an increased work load for his office, asked the council to increase his budget from $108,600 to $163,800 a year.

Bennett asked that the number of assistant attorneys general be increased from seven to 10 and that their salaries be raised from $7,200 to $8,400 a year.

He asked that his chief assistant, Jack Lessenberry, have a salary increase from $8,400 to $9,600 a year.

If the budget is approved, the number of employees in the attorney general's office will go from 19 to 25 and all will have salary increases ranging from $600 to $1,200 a year.

Bennett said that civil rights, habeas corpus proceedings for criminal defendants, lawsuits over congressional redistricting and legislative reapportionment would keep his office busy during the next two years.

Bennett said the interest in Negro criminal cases by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had made it increasingly difficult to get final convictions.

Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsem raised the perennial question of why the attorney general's office does not handle all of the state's legal business.

Many state agencies have their own attorneys and Bennett said he was quite willing for this situation to continue.

Bennett is asking for $40,000 to finance a new booklet of election laws after the 1965 legislative session incorporates Amendment 51, the voter registration amendment, into the election law structure.

Bennett said he had talked with Gov. Orval E. Faubus briefly about the possibility of the state providing legal help for small businessmen who might come in conflict with the federal government because of the Civil Rights Act.

Bennett did not say definitely what Faubus had decided to do but he indicated that some kind of legislation on this subject will be introduced in the legislature.

He said there was precedent for it because the legislature in 1959 provided funds to help school districts fight integration lawsuits.

The council heard Monday that the State Police will be out of business unless it gets additional funds by next July 1.

Today, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, charged that the action would halt the vigorous business expansion that has run 45 months.

Patman has fought fiercely for years for lower interest rates, arguing that only bankers benefit from a tight money policy.

Beside approving the discount rate increase, the Federal Reserve Board raised the ceiling on time deposits from 4 to 4.5 per cent. Rates on savings deposits also were strengthened.

President Johnson, who is at his Texas ranch, talked by telephone with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and with William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, about the U.S. and British actions.

Dillon and Martin sought to allay fears that the board's actions represent a move toward monetary restraint.

They were taken, Dillon said, "to maintain the strength of the dollar without impairing the steady and healthy advance of the American economy."

Martin said the only reason for the higher discount rate was to make sure there is no excessive flight of dollars to Britain and other European countries which have higher interest rates.

Rapist Tries to Gain His Freedom

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — One of two Monticello Negroes sentenced to die on a rape conviction petitioned U.S. District Court here Monday for his release on a writ of habeas corpus.

Orion Trotter, 25, and Albert Harris, 23, were convicted for the rape of a white woman on Feb. 16, 1963.

Trotter's petition is similar to one filed Nov. 15 for Harris. Judge Gordon E. Young issued an order staying Trotter's execution, as he did last week for Harris.

Young scheduled both cases for a hearing Dec. 17 and directed the state attorney general's office to show cause why the petitions should not be granted.

The two men claim that they did not get a fair trial because of a "hostile and adverse" atmosphere and because Negroes were discriminated against in selection of the jury.

said Vassilev could speak at the campus Methodist Student Center.

The senate resolution said the "crux of the problem" was the "inability of university officials to resist the pressures applied by various groups who seek to dictate the policies of this institution according to their own narrow concepts of enlightenment."

The resolution praised Loudermilk's action.

State Is One of Poorest in Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tunica County, Mississippi, is the nation's poorest governmental jurisdiction, according to a publication issued today by the Welfare Department.

Tunica, a rural county, was described as having a population of about 17,000, almost 78 per cent of whom live in families that had incomes of less than $3,000 in 1959.

The announcement said that due to the poverty in Tunica and other Mississippi counties, that state headed the list of the 10 states with the highest percentage of impoverished families. The other states are: Arkansas, South Carolina, Alabama, Tennessee, North Carolina, Kentucky, Georgia, South Dakota, and Louisiana.

The poorest areas were also the ones that had the highest income gains during the 1949-59 decade. In terms of 1959 buying power, nine of the 10 states—all except South Dakota—had gains that exceeded the national average gain of 50.5 per cent for the decade.

The publication, the first research monograph issued by the Welfare Administration, reports the location, extent and nature of the nation's most serious poverty.

In announcing publication of the report, Dr. Ellen Winston, U.S. Commissioner of Welfare, said:

"Although 54 per cent of the poor live in cities located in more prosperous areas, the 46 per cent who live in the poorest states and counties present special problems because they make up the majority of the population in these sections."

Robbed While Unconscious, Not Vengeful

By JIM LAMB

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I don't seek revenge, but those boys should be punished so they won't do it to someone else," said Ella Socolski, 50, from a hospital bed as she told of being robbed while unconscious.

She was hit by a motor scooter as she crossed a street last Oct. 14, and suffered a broken arm and leg and other injuries. As she lay helpless on the pavement, bleeding from cuts, two teenagers darted out of a crowd of spectators and stole her purse, holding about $50.

No one tried to prevent the theft.

Lying in Temple University Hospital where steel pins and plates hold her broken bones together, Miss Socolski said she bears no grudge against the youths who robbed her.

"I'll never get my money back, and I don't hold a grudge against them. But if anything like that happens, they should be punished so they won't do it again," she said.

"It's like everything else. There's too much crime committed all over. And then when somebody kills someone, they have it in the papers how many times they were arrested before and then let go."

She has been in the hospital five weeks. How much longer she'll be there, she doesn't know.

Since her story was first printed, she has received many cards and letters. Pupils from a nearby high school took up a collection, each contributing at least one cent, and gave her $31.

"She asked, 'Who cares?'" said Alexander Head, 17, the pupil who started the drive.

"We wanted to show her."

British Deal

to Washington's plan at the very moment when it seemed to officials here that the new British government's interest in the fleet had given fresh cause for hope that, perhaps after some modification, it might be acceptable to a number of NATO allies.

U.S. officials were surprised at the flatness of Wilson's declaration, but there was some tendency to regard it as the opening move in a series of negotiations.

Wilson said he hopes to obtain in discussions with President Johnson here next month more extensive "consultation in the deployment and sharing of NATO's nuclear strength."

At the same time he declared, "We are irrevocably committed against more fingers on the (nuclear) trigger." London's aim, said Wilson, is to have the United States serve as the custodian of Western nuclear power.

The position Wilson outlined appears to leave little room for maneuver in an effort to reach accommodation with the strong positions already taken by the United States and West Germany in favor of the proposed 25-ship fleet. Armed with Polaris nuclear missiles, it would be jointly controlled by participating nations and they would share the cost and provide the personnel for the vessels.

Wilson's statement came as Secretary of State Dean Rusk and West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder were starting two days of consultation on U.S.-German and NATO problems, centering around the multilateral force — MLF — plan.

Neither the State Department nor Schroeder reacted publicly to what Wilson said.

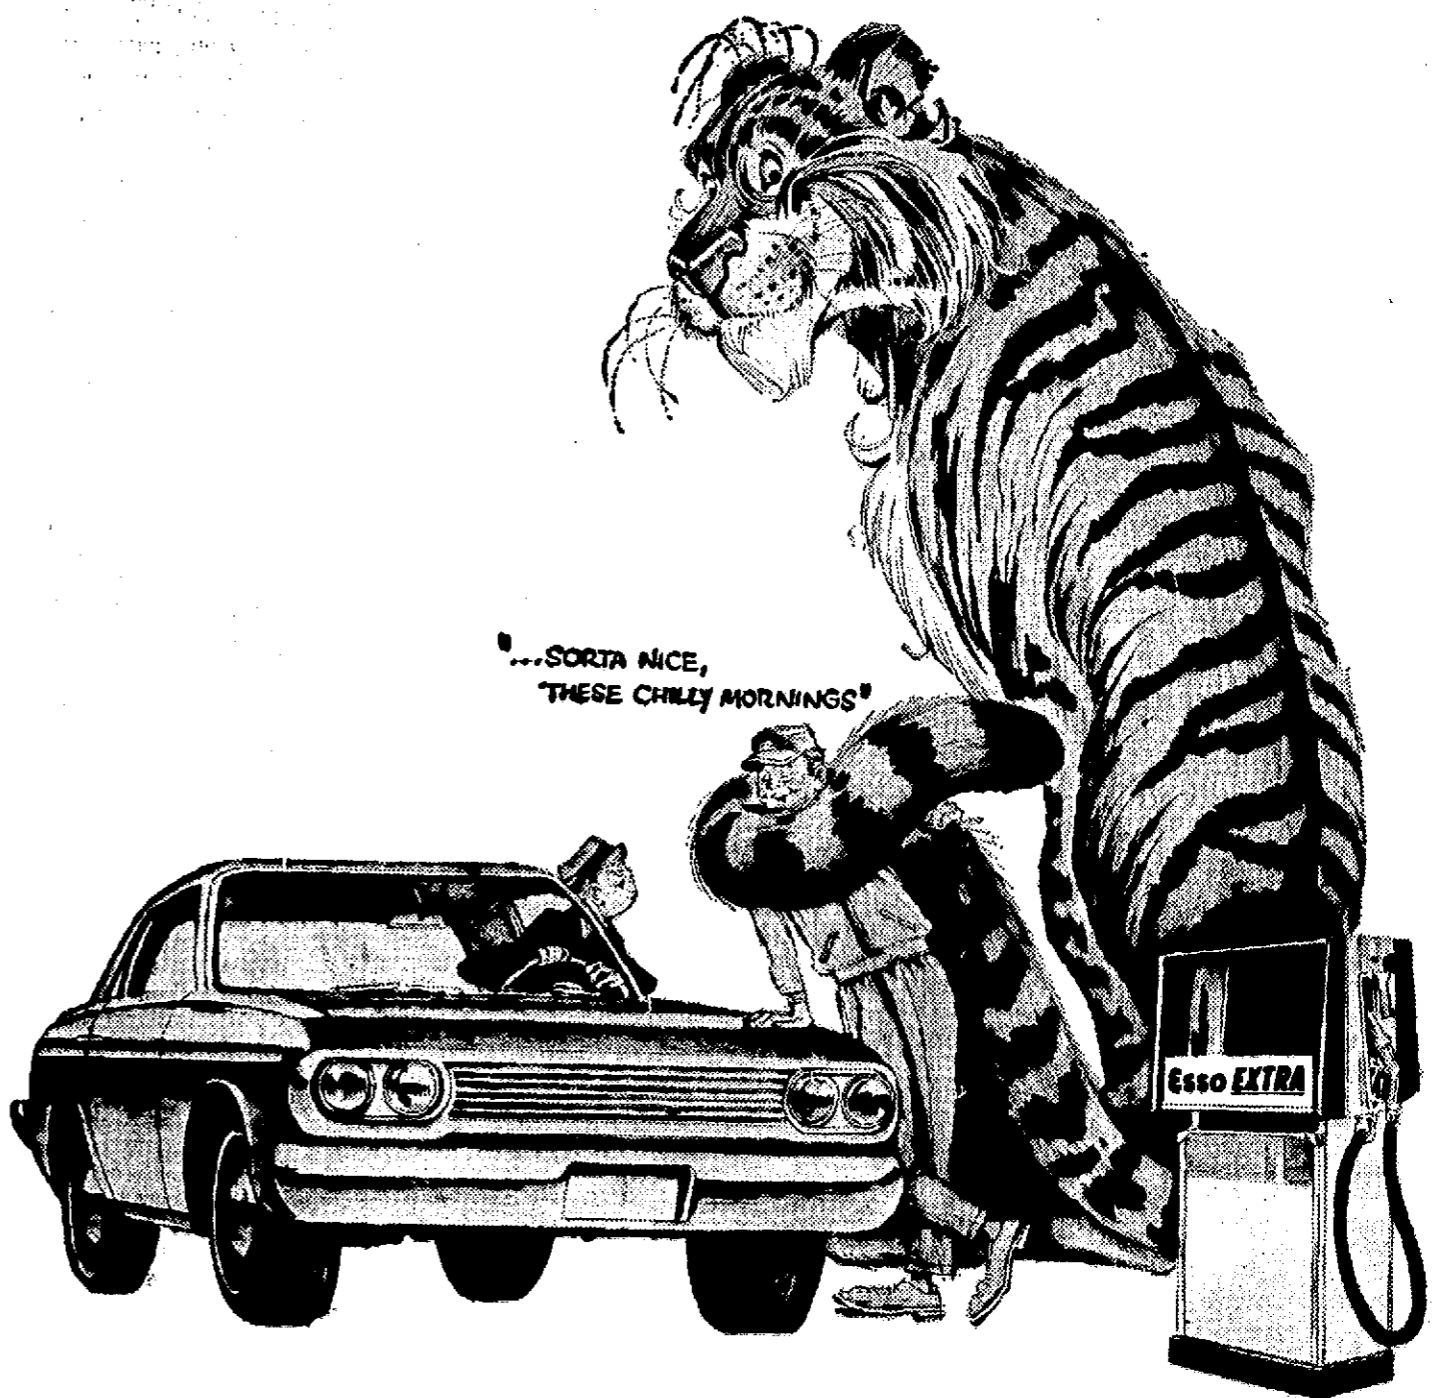

Privately U.S. officials said that on this issue Wilson's stated position is close to that of French President Charles de Gaulle. Paris' position is that the West Germans must choose between closer ties with France and closer ties with the United States on MLF.

at the same time.

Griffin was convicted of voluntary manslaughter last spring in Mrs. Wyatt's death and was sentenced to two years in prison. He appealed.

The shootings followed a long-standing property dispute between Griffin and the Wyatts, authorities said.

In order to make room for Christmas merchandise which is arriving daily, we are having a clearance sale. People often ask why we have sales? There are a number of reasons, sometimes garments are sized wrong, tried on and pushed back because they do not fit. A little alteration will correct this. Perhaps they were priced beyond the budget in the first place, maybe soiled from trying on, the color a little too gay to be practical but nice for special. Then, there is always the fact that Merchants want to raise funds for Christmas merchandise. Anyway the customers get the advantage of seasonal sales and women love bargains. All of us at Raley's Style Shoppe are right with you on this, we are our best customers at sale time!

A group of dresses, suits, coats, millinery and sportswear have all been reduced. Early fall and winter dresses 1/2 price. Come early and stay late, we are selling away at Raley's Style Shoppe, 523 West 3rd.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The price on Martin Bormann's head is $25,000.

West German authorities have promised that reward for information leading to the arrest of Bormann, one of Adolf Hitler's top lieutenants during the Nazi regime.

Bormann disappeared at the end of World War II. He subsequently was sentenced to death in absentia by the Nuremberg war crimes tribunal.

There have been recurrent rumors that he is alive, hiding out in exile, possibly South America.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The syndicated newspaper column of Sen. Barry Goldwater, which he suspended early this year upon deciding to seek the Republican presidential nomination, will be resumed Jan. 4.

The Los Angeles Times Syndicate introduced the Arizona senator as a columnist in 1960. Once again it will distribute the three-times-a-week column, according to an announcement in Los Angeles by Goldwater and Times publisher Otis Chandler.

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — John Nance Garner, vice president during the first and second terms of Franklin D. Roosevelt, has turned 96.

He greeted about 250 persons for a half-hour at his Uvalde, Tex., residence, and was presented with a huge cake.

Among those sending birthday wishes was President Johnson.

Taxpayers Count on 2nd Break
By SAM DAWSON
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Taxpayers are beginning to count on another break next year. This is because more people in an out of the Federal government are saying that today's surging economy may be running low on stimulants in a few more months.

And the most popular thinking in Washington just now is that a tax cut works faster and better than any attempt to raise government spending by more than the usual year-to-year growth.

The income tax cut last March is getting much of the credit now for supplying the extra umph the economy needed this summer and fall. It was voted in face of a continuing federal deficit. But despite the tax cut the deficit shrank a bit. And the advocates of this fiscal policy are saying they told us so.

Last year's tax cut's effect will still be felt next year, but this time it will be adding very little of a new stimulant to the economy. And government and business economists are talking now of another nudge being needed if the economy is to expand at the rate it set this year.

The expansion is wanted to provide more jobs, more per capita income, more permanent receipts, even if the tax rates themselves are lower.

Talk of a coming recession is still strictly academic. That it could come some time in the indefinite future is accepted by most persons who think about it at all. But few see any signs that it is in the making now.

What more persons are seeing is a chance that the present rate of economic growth can slide toward a standstill by next summer or fall. And the new fiscal theory is that this can, and should, be prevented.

How to do this seems sure to be a topic before the incoming Congress.

Most taxpayers are looking for elimination or reduction in federal excise taxes. And beyond that many taxpayers are hoping for another lowering of the rates on incomes.

Their hopes are built both on the prospect that in the next few years treasury receipts will rise enough to change the present deficit into a future surplus, and on the zeal of the administration.

"DEAR ABBY"

YES, BUT NO!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: I am a high school teacher, so you know I am at least as intelligent as the average person, but when I received my sample ballot, I had great difficulty understanding it. The language is so confusing that I actually had to read it four times before I knew whether my YES or NO would mean what I wanted it to mean. For instance, in Proposition 15, which (in Calif.) is the issue dealing with whether or not we want television, if we vote YES, it means, "No, we don't want it." If we vote NO, it means, "Yes, we DO want it." Is it necessary to word the propositions so that most people vote exactly the opposite of how they intend to vote?

JUST STUPID, I GUESS
Dear Just: NO!

Dear Abby: I am married to a wonderful man. He is my second husband. I ran into my first husband, who is married again, and he tells me he still loves me and he KNOWS that one day we will be together again. What does this mean? Now I can't think straight. We were divorced for five years. I thought I loved my second husband until this happened. Do you think we could be married to the wrong people? I need advice.

CONFUSED
Dear Confused: It sounds to me as though your first husband has had second thoughts about his second wife. Leave well enough alone. If you "thought" you loved your present husband, keep right on loving him, and tell Number One to make the best of it with Number Two because that's what you intend to do.

Dear Abby: I read about some of the ridiculous wedding customs sent to you from readers. Kidnapping the bride, filling her shoes with money, etc. The one I think takes the cake is when the wedding guests keep hitting their water glasses with silverware until the bride and groom give them a demonstration of a long, passionate kiss. I am going to be married soon and I do not care to put on this kind of performance in front of a bunch of gawking half-tipsy spectators. I have considered kissing the matron of honor as a means of sobering up the sightseers. Have you a better suggestion?

IN LOVE BUT NOT INSANE
Dear In Love: Yes, if you really want to sober 'em up, kiss the best man!

Dear Abby: Thank you for your wonderful answer to "UN-ENLIGHTENED"—that teenager who had just learned that her parents had not been married quite long enough when she was born. You have answered a question I have wanted answered for four years. Our first was born early as our marriage was late. I've felt guilty and ashamed ever since, and worried so for fear the child would find out about it later. You have helped me a lot. I feel like a weight has been lifted off my shoulders. Thank you.

"RELIEVED"
For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, California and include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Answers ALL mail.

For the taxpayer there's the uncertainty of whether Congress will find that the economy needs any more boosting. And beyond that is the certainty that state and local tax collections are rising and in large part offsetting the saving on the federal tax bills.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you live to be 70, your one-pound heart will have chalked up a lifetime job equivalent to carrying a 10-ton load 10 miles.

That was the illustration given Sunday by one of the nation's top heart specialists in describing the "fantastic amount of work" done by the human heart — and the difficulties in trying to develop an artificial, robot heart to duplicate it, even temporarily.

Dr. E. Cowles Andrus, professor emeritus of Johns Hopkins University Medical School, told a news conference he believes a crude artificial heart could be developed in several years.

But he said a robot heart useful in treating cardiac disease shapes up as achievable only "in the more distant future."

Dr. Andrus is director of the second national conference on cardiovascular diseases which opened Sunday under the joint sponsorship of the American Heart Association and agencies of the U.S. Public Health Service.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service says the amount of radioactive strontium 90 detected in milk continued to decline in August.

The August national average was 22 picocuries per liter of milk daily, compared with 26 in July and 30 in May and June. A picocurie is one-millionth of one millionth of the radioactivity from one gram of radium. The Federal Radiation Council has established an intake of 200 picocuries a day, averaged over a year, as an acceptable health hazard.

A spokesman for the health service said the strontium 90 fallout effect of Communist China's nuclear test would not be detected in monthly milk reports for several months.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., says the proposed multilateral nuclear force of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization "is a reversal of the trend toward peace and arms reduction set in motion by the nuclear test ban treaty in 1963."

McGovern said in a statement Sunday he is inclined to view the proposed mixed sea force as impractical. At best, he said, it will require at least a year of careful study by Congress before a worthwhile judgment can be made.

Improvement on Lake Proposed

LAKE VILLAGE, Ark. (AP) — The Vicksburg (Miss.) District of Army Engineers has called a hearing here Tuesday on proposed improvements at Lake Chicot.

Among scheduled speakers are Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark.

Residents say the lake is being ruined by mud, causing a loss of revenue from tourists and sportsmen. County officials have proposed a dam to divert water draining into the lake.

Star City Gets New Industry

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP) — Construction on a $35,000 plant for the Southern Picture Company, a picture frame manufacturing firm, began Monday.

The company will hire 10 persons at first, and eventually will employ about 25.

added in the same way. Costly and time-consuming hand-kept books are thus eliminated. If a complete audit of the firm's books is required, the cards are run through the computers, producing a written record of the audit quickly and accurately.

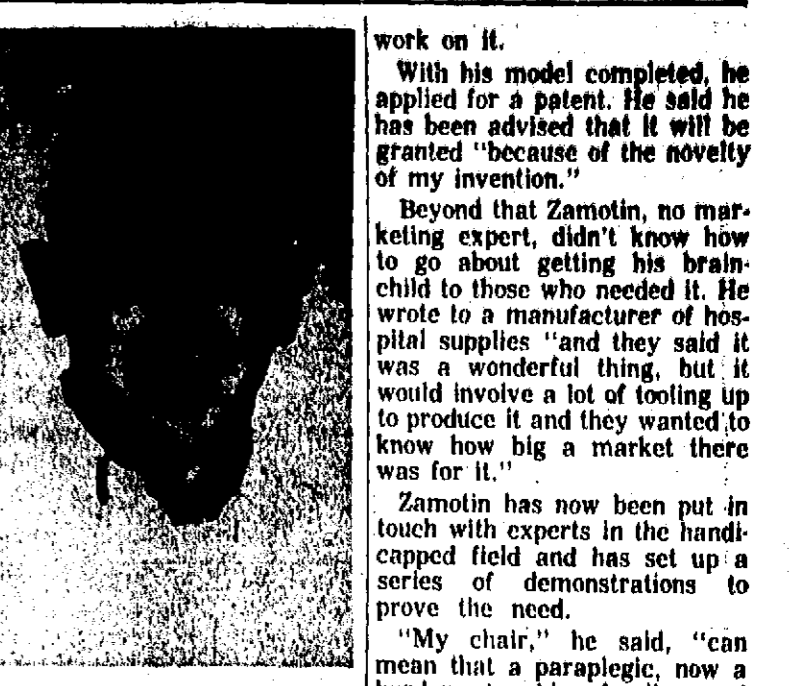

But computers are expensive. Barksdale said his firm has machines in operation or installed in Arkansas ranging in rental prices from a minimum of $1,500 to a high of $25,000. Some of the computers can be purchased, Barksdale said, but the lowest priced unit offered by his firm for sale is $80,000.

But the many firms which require large volumes of accounting and record keeping, the time, personnel and money saved in keeping records up to date far offsets the cost of the computer.

Barksdale said that personnel in jobs eliminated by computers seldom are displaced altogether. Instead, he said, they are freed to perform other functions which the business could not otherwise afford to do.

A wide variety of computer-producing firms have offices in Arkansas and with large maintenance and consulting staffs, can provide a computer program aimed at satisfying the specific needs of a business.

However, those who use computers point out that a businessman must know specifically what he wants his computer to do. He cannot obtain it with one purpose in mind and expect it to perform miracles in other areas.

Wheel Chair Just Might Climb Stairs

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "I've got a newspaper clipping here," a telephone caller told The Associated Press. "It says the space scientists hope to develop a wheel chair that climbs stairs."

"I thought you might be interested in knowing that I've already built one and my son-in-law rode it up the steps of the courthouse the other day."

The caller was Rod Zamotin, 45, an employee of the jet engine division of Eastern Air Lines, part-time inventor and architect.

Working at home, in two years of spare-time effort, the "hobby" inventor has produced a wheel chair that does climb stairs, and could open a whole new world to the handicapped.

With Donald Whitney, Zamotin's son-in-law, riding the chair, it easily mounted the concrete steps of the courthouse.

Zamotin, soft-spoken, New York-born son of a Russian portrait artist, has invented only little things in the past — such as a salt shaker which keeps the salt dry.

Two years ago, he read an appeal to inventors from the Department of Commerce to work on a wheel chair that would climb stairs. He went to work on it. With his model completed, he applied for a patent. He said he has been advised that it will be granted "because of the novelty of my invention."

Beyond that Zamotin, no marketing expert, didn't know how to go about getting his brainchild to those who needed it. He wrote to a manufacturer of hospital supplies "and they said it was a wonderful thing, but it would involve a lot of tooling up to produce it and they wanted to know how big a market there was for it."

Zamotin has now been put in touch with experts in the handicapped field and has set up a series of demonstrations to prove the need.

"My chair," he said, "can mean that a paraplegic, now a burden to his family and friends, can enjoy independence."

"With my chair, he can go down the porch steps, cross the street, go to the shopping center, up the steps of the library, or just down to the beach to watch the tide come in."

Zamotin's wheel chair looks much the same as a standard kind, with two big wheels up front and a small one behind. On the flat, the driver operates it like any other, by turning the big wheels.

At the foot of a flight of stairs, the driver turns a small device which retracts the rear wheel and lowers a frame with a non-skid belt made of a special rubber composition developed by Zamotin and built by the U.S. Rubber Co.

The belt, molding itself to the stair edges, takes the driver upstairs backward as he turns the two large wheels by hand, just as in traveling on the flat. Zamotin says it can't slip or skid on the stairs.

While the model is hand operated, Zamotin says it could easily be electrified.

The model is much heavier than production chairs would be, but a 72-year-old man testing it out ran it upstairs handily.

It is claimed that an India regiment, the First Cherokee Regiment, took part in more battles, moved over more miles, and captured more wagons, horses and mules than any other brigade west of the Mississippi River during the Civil War.

Socialist's Future Is in the Past

By BILL STALL

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Socialist Norman Thomas cocked his partly bald, partly silver-haired head, thought briefly and said, "My future is mostly in the past."

On his 80th birthday today, Thomas' eyes reflect the disappointment of dreams that didn't come true.

It's not that he ran six times as the Socialist candidate for president and never came close to victory. ("I didn't expect to be elected.") But he had hoped to be the catalyst that would lead to the Socialist party's triumph in the United States.

"It's a great disappointment to me," says Thomas. He thinks failure to follow a Socialist course is "not very healthy for the United States."

"But some ideas originally called socialistic have prevailed," Thomas says.

A widower for 14 years, slowed by arthritis and heart trouble, Thomas faces his age realistically. "You've got to grow old. I take it as it comes."

He still travels widely and addresses organizations, mostly college groups, on the philosophy of socialism. His talks, such as one at the University of Nevada Thursday night, are liberally sprinkled with a keen wit.

"The election turned out about as I thought. I wanted (Barry) Goldwater decisively defeated and that happened. A large part of this big majority was more anti-Goldwater than for Johnson."

Good. I want to meet Miss Drake and talk to her a few minutes. What would you suggest was the best way to accomplish this?"

He thought for a minute. "Well, sir, Miss Drake is very fond of champagne cocktails and I don't believe she's ordered since she came off."

I added some more money to his take. "How about getting two doubles and taking them back to her dressing room?"

"Very good, sir. Who shall I say sent them?"

"I'll go right along behind you and tell her myself."

He shrugged and went off toward the bar. I stood nearby and waited until he had the drinks and was heading toward the back of the room. I followed him.

We wet through a doorway with signs indicating we were on the path to the rest rooms, then just past the men's room he opened a door leading into a long corridor. He stopped at the first door and knocked.

"Who is it?" she called through the door.

"The waiter," he said. "Come in."

He opened the door and stepped inside. I waited in the corridor out of sight.

"Champagne cocktails, Miss Drake."

"Who ordered them?"

"A gentleman who watched your performance."

"All right," she said wearily. "Put them down and get out."

"Do as the lady said," I said, stepping into the dressing room. She was sitting there in the costume—or the lack of costume—she'd worn on the runway. There was a dressing gown thrown over her shoulders.

"What is this?" she said, "as soon as the door is opened the joint gets flooded with creeps." She looked at the waiter, who was still staring at her. "Pick up your eyeballs and get out. I'll take care of this."

The waiter turned and left, closing the door behind him. As soon as he was gone, she turned her attention back to me. "Well, what's your pitch, buster?"

"No pitch," I said evenly. "I am Blake Morgan. I saw your performance and thought it was great. I found out your favorite drink and ordered two doubles in the hope that I could share them with you. If that's out, then they're both for you. And that's all."

Who Steals My Name . . .

The Story: Postal Inspector Morgan Blake goes to a night club and sees Richard Emery there. But a distraction, in the form of a dancer named Ducky Drake, allows Emery to escape.

I'd had my man there within 12 feet of me and I'd watched a girl for three minutes and now he was gone. I looked around and beckoned he waiter. He came trotting over.

"Another one, Sir?" he asked. "No," I said. It was almost a snarl. "I want a check and fast."

He pulled the check from his pocket and added it up. I looked at it and threw down enough money to make the tip a generous one.

"There were two men sitting at that table when Miss Drake started to dance. Do you know where they went?"

"No, sir. That's not my table."

I sighed. "I wonder if you could give me one other piece of information?"

He glanced down at the tip I'd left, then back at me. "I might," he said uncertainly.

I added a $5 bill to the tip on the table. "Does that help?"

His face brightened. "It might sir."

"Good. I want to meet Miss Drake and talk to her a few minutes. What would you suggest was the best way to accomplish this?"

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China ruled out a variety of proposed approaches to the problem of curbing nuclear weapons and insisted its own plan of total abolition is the only valid one.

The Chinese, who exploded their own atom bomb Oct. 16, rejected suggestions they should engage in the disarmament conference at Geneva or meet with the four other nations which possess nuclear weapons — the United States, Soviet Union, Britain and France.

Peking also spurned proposals to destroy vehicles for the delivery of nuclear warheads and for a treaty banning all nuclear weapon tests.

ROME (AP) — Italians voted for the second and final day today in nationwide local elections that could bear on the future of Premier Aldo Moro's harassed government.

About 90 per cent of Italy's 33 million voters were expected to cast ballots by the time the polls close, but the outcome may not be known until Tuesday.

Moro's national alliance, was not at stake, but serious losses at the local level could weaken his Christian Democratic party. It already is split by factional differences.

MANILA (AP) — A team of Cabinet officials flew to Mindanao Island today to assess damage from Typhoon Louise and to see what could be done for victims.

Dozens of deaths have been reported on other islands in the central Philippines that were in the typhoon's path last Thursday and Friday.

Statistical Leaders in SW Conference

DALLAS (AP)—Donny Anderson, the wild horse of the plains, came within 50 yards of a mile in Southwest Conference football this season.

The great Texas Tech half-back leads the Southwest Conference in rushing with 966 yards on 211 attempts, is fourth in receiving with 32 catches for 396 yards and is first in kickoff returns with 320 yards on 16 runs.

Also he took back two punts for 28 yards. So his total for the year was 1710 yards.

There's little chance of Anderson being overtaken in rushing although the runner-up, Jim Fauver of Texas Christian, still has a game to go. Fauver has rolled up 705 yards on 141 carries.

Terry Southall of Baylor leads the passers with 104 completions of 196 attempts for eight touchdowns. He also has another game to play but wouldn't run the risk of being overtaken even if he hadn't. Tom Wilson of Texas Tech, in second place, had 65 completions for 761 yards.

Southall also is the total offense leader with 1456 yards on 255 plays. He has that title nailed down since Fred Marshall of Arkansas is the runnerup with 1094 yards and has no more games to play.

Lawrence Elkins of Baylor leads the pass-receivers with 46 catches for 823 yards.

Ken Hatfield of Arkansas tops in punt returns with 31 for 518 yards.

Teddy Roberts of Texas Tech has intercepted the most passes—seven for 62 yards.

Danny Thomas of Southern Methodist leads the punters with a 41.7-yard average on 54 boots.

Nebraska Sees Hogs Soundest

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Assistant Nebraska Coach Cletus Fischer, who scouted Arkansas Saturday when the Razorbacks beat Texas Tech, came up with a new comment Monday on why Arkansas has been successful.

"They're not big but they don't realize it," he said.

Nebraska, Big Eight Conference football champions, face Arkansas New Year's Day in the Cotton Bowl.

Head Coach Bob Devaney said Arkansas would be "The soundest team we've had to face."

Selection for Rose Bowl Is to Be Decided

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pacific Athletic Conference deferred action Monday on choosing its representative to meet Big Ten champion Michigan in the Rose Bowl.

West Virginia accepted an invitation to play in the first major indoor bowl football game, the Dec. 19 Liberty Bowl in Atlantic City's Convention Hall.

Syracuse and Louisiana State signed contracts to play in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 1.

Oklahoma, Penn State and Georgia Tech, among others, showed considerable interest in receiving invitations for the few major bowl spots still open, but Missouri's bid had few wits from consideration.

Those were Monday's principal developments as the pairings for the post-season football classics began to shape up.

Falling to agree unanimously on a preliminary vote, PAC officials agreed to wait until after Saturday's Southern California Notre Dame game before making the final Rose Bowl selection.

Southern Cal and Oregon State tied for the conference title, Oregon State has an 8-2 over-all record to 6-3 for USC.

But a victory over top-ranked Notre Dame would weight heavily in favor of the Trojans.

Bud Dudley, the Liberty Bowl promoter, named West Virginia as one of the teams for the indoor game after the Mountaineers' 28-7 victory over Syracuse. He listed Oklahoma, Kansas, Georgia Tech, Villanova, Boston College, Utah, Arizona State and Texas Tech as possible opponents.

Oklahoma also is on the list of prospects for the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 2 and the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Dec. 28.

Florida State already has accepted a Gator Bowl bid and Penn State, Auburn and Georgia Tech are among the top prospects.

Otherwise the major bowl pairings shape up this way: Cotton Bowl at Dallas—Arkansas, 10-0, vs. Nebraska 9-1.

Orange Bowl at Miami—Texas 8-1 vs. Alabama 9-0. Alabama still has to play Auburn Thanksgiving Day.

Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Dec. 19—Mississippi 5-3-1 vs. Tulsa 7-2. Each has one regular season game to play.

Sun Bowl—No teams named yet.

Porkers to Stay Idle for Week

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The third-ranked Arkansas Razorbacks decided Monday to take a week off from practice and start conditioning on their own next week.

Organized practice will resume Dec. 14.

The Porkers will leave Fayetteville about Dec. 18 for a pre-Cotton Bowl practice site not yet selected. They probably will go to Dallas on Dec. 20.

Heisman Trophy to Notre Dame Player

NEW YORK (AP)—John Huarte, Notre Dame quarterback, is the winner of the 1964 Heisman Trophy as the outstanding college football player of the year, the Downtown Athletic Club announced today.

The Notre Dame star, who played only 45 minutes during the 1963 season because of injuries, will receive the award at a banquet on Thursday, Dec. 3.

Roger Staubach, ace quarterback of the Navy, was the winner a year ago. Huarte is the first Notre Dame player to be chosen since Paul Hornung, now a star with the Green Bay Packers, won the honor in 1956.

Huarte is a native of Anaheim, Calif.

BOSTON (AP)—Third baseman Ken Boyer, who sparked the St. Louis Cardinals to a victory in the World Series, was named today the National League's Most Valuable Player for 1964.

The oldest of the famed brothers from Missouri was an easy victor. He was named first on 14 of the 20 ballots cast by the selection committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Boyer's selection gave third basemen a sweep of the MVP awards. Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles was named the American League winner last week.

Boyer drew a total of 243 points, with ballots counted on the basis of 10 points for first place, nine for second, eight for third, etc. He drew 56 points more than runner-up Johnny Callison, the outfield star of the Philadelphia Phillies, who had 187 points.

Boyer's teammate, first baseman Bill White, was third with 106½ points.

Boyer is the first member of the St. Louis Cardinals to win since Stan Musial in 1948, the last of three such honors for the Cardinal great. Boyer also is the first third baseman to be selected in the NL since Bo Elliott of Boston in 1947. In fact, Elliott was the only other third sacker picked for the award.

The 1963 MVP was Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers, whose 1961 season was cut short by injuries. A year ago, Koufax received 237 points. His total this year was 7½ for 17th place.

The 1963 runner-up, Dick Groat of St. Louis, did not receive a mention this year.

Boyer, 33, is the fifth St. Louis player to receive the MVP award since the BBWA took over the balloting in 1931. In addition to Musial (1943, 1946 and 1948), other Cardinals honored in the past were Frankie Frisch (1931), Dizzy Dean (1934), Joe Medwick (1937), Mort Cooper (1942) and Marty

Stottlemire Wins Earned Run Title

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Mel Stottlemire, the young right-hander who moved up from Richmond and helped lead the New York Yankees to a pennant, won the International League's earned-run title last season, official averages showed today.

Stottlemire compiled a 1.42 ERA in 30 games before being called up by the Yankees early in August.

Bruce Brubaker of the Syracuse Chiefs was second with 2.63.

Marion (1944).

The spectacular fielding Boyer also had a fine year with the bat. He led the major leagues in runs batted in with 119, belted the league leaders in triples with 10. In all, he accounted for 219 Cardinal runs, scoring 100 to go with the 119 RBI.

Recognition was a long time coming for the infielder who has been with the Cardinals since 1955.

At bat, he has been amazingly consistent. His 295 1964 batting average was just .001 below his lifetime mark of .296. For the past four years, he has hit exactly 24 home runs in each year. Since 1957, he has driven in at least 90 runs each season.

Boyer first heard the word of his selection on his return from a hunting trip to Hermon, Mo., about 100 miles from his St. Louis home. Convinced the MVP choice wouldn't be announced until later in the week, Boyer thought at first the official notification was a gag.

Boyer said he was fortunate to have played on a team when so many men had such good years, "guys like White, Groat and Gibson. The good years those boys had meant I could win the award."
